of Columbia Day.

District Commissioner Macfarland received this morning a telegram from Mr. William I. Buchanan, director general of the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo, replying to his request on behalf of the Commissioners that September 3 be set apart by the exposition as "District of Columbia day," in which Mr. Buchanan

"I have great pleasure in saying that it is a gratification for us to be able to set aside this day, as we have, for that purpese. We will do all that we can to make it a success." In his letter of invitation Director General Buchanan suggested that the Commissioners should arrange for appropriate exercises at the exposition on District day. as the governors of the states and territories are to do. It is hoped that, in the case of the District of Columbia, it may be possible to have these exercises in the United States government building, since Congress did not authorize the erection of a District building. Mr. Macfarland will ask his associates to determine at an early day how the arrangements for these exer-cises should be made.

Each Assaulted the Other. Nathan Cartrell and Charles H. Brocken borough of Champlain avenue were today convicted in the Police Court of assaulting each other. The evidence developed that Brockenborough fired a shot from a loaded revolver at Cartrell and the latter struck the former with a brick. Judge Scott fined Brockenborough $50, with the alternative of nine months in jall, and Cartrell $30, PLAG DAY IN SCHOOLS.

Gen. Vincent Asks Co-Operation in the General Thomas M. Vincent, chairman of the flag committee of the District Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, and Mr. Henry W. Samson, secretary of the committee, today called upon District Commissioner Macfarland for the purpose of securing his co-operation and that of his associates in an observance of flag day in the public schools. They stated that the society has arranged to present the children attending the local public schools, through its flag committee, with small American flags, to be worn by the children American flags, to be worn by the children on flag day. June 14. That day will be the 126th anniversary of the adoption of the stars and stripes as the national ensign, and the society trusts the pupils of the public schools will then display the flags with patriotic feeling. Mr. Macfarland assured the gentlemen that he and his associates may be depend-ed upon to give all encouragement to the project, they being in full sympaths with its purpose, and deeply appreciating the patriotic desire of the society.

THE WASHINGTON RELICS.

It is Hoped That They May Remain in Government Custody.

It appears that of the Washington relies at the Smithsonian Institution those ordered returned to George Washington Custis Lee by the President yesterday comprise only about one-third. They include the celebrated Cincinnati china set, which has the badge of the order of Cincinnati burned in it, some tables and household furniture. There are also several tents that were used by General Washington during the revolutionary war, but not all of them. The Smithsonian officials express the hope that the Lee heirs will permit the relies to remain at the Smithsonian or that some arrangement can be made by which they will be sent to Mount Vernon or remain in some way or other in the case tody of the government. These relies, it will be remembered, were taken from Arlington in 1862, for safekeeping.

The Lakewood Season. Special Correspondence of The Evening Star

LAKEWOOD, N. J., April 26, 1901, The popularity of a spring visit in Lakewood is now well shown by the fact that the Laurel House is as closely crowded as at any time during the Lenten season, while at the Laurel-in-the-Pines, aithough not roomed full, the house count exceeds that of last year on corresponding dates by nearly 100 guests. It cannot be claimed that throughout the resort as a whole the increase is quite as large, but with cottages well filled and medium size hotels comfortably holding their own, in numbers in the aggregate is large.

Our stock of pianos is naturally very large at this time of the year. Besides all the new models that have been arriving in carload lots with persistent regularity, we have an enormous number of pianos that have been rented during the past season to the various legations, embassics, senators and con-
